DEFENSE OF ARBUCKLE IS NEARING END

Expect Defense Will Rest Its Case Saturday Morning

"FATTY" MAY TESTIFY

Defense Will Spring Surprise—Expect Verdict Tuesday Night

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—The defense of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, on trial for manslaughter as a result of the death of Virginia Rappe, film actress, following a gay "drinking party" given by the film comedian here Labor Day, drew near a close today.

Unless there are unexpected delays the defense will rest its case Saturday morning. One feature that may prolong it is the grilling cross examination to which the obese screen star will be subjected if he takes the stand. Despite the anxiety of Arbuckle to go on the stand, it is not at all certain he will mount the witness chair. Gavin McNab, his chief counsel who has the final say, had not definitely decided and will not make the decision until he reaches that point in the case.

The feature of today's proceedings was expected to be the appearance of a number of more or less prominent stars of the Hollywood movie colony. The defense denied that Alice Blake was to head this contingent although she was reported in San Francisco today.

Contrary to belief these will not be character witnesses. It is understood a large number of Los Angeles screen stars, volunteered for this duty, but it was learned today that the defense had no intention of calling upon the movie colony to take the stand for this purpose.

Today the defense will spring a surprise witness in the person of Miss Irene Morgan, a Los Angeles nurse, who lived with Virginia Rappe as a companion for seven years. Her testimony will combat that of Mrs. Kate Harbeck, "aunt" of the dead film star, who testified Miss Rappe was in perfect health during the period she knew her. Miss Morgan will testify, it is understood that Miss Rappe suffered a chronic bladder ailment and had been warned against partaking of alcoholic drinks for that reason. She and members of the film colony from Los Angeles will testify, it is expected that Miss Rappe on other occasions tore her clothing following drinking of non-Volsteadian liquors.

Depositions of a Chicago nurse and a Chicago doctor remain to be introduced. There may be a little more medical testimony but not a great deal—the defense does not desire to weary the jury with repetition of matter in evidence.

Arbuckle failed to qualify as a turkey cook Thanksgiving Day as he had planned. Instead he spent the day largely with his attorneys. Remaining witnesses were checked up.

Arbuckle made final preparations for taking the stand if called. His story on the stand as already forecast will be an absolute denial of any improper relations with Virginia Rappe. He will assert that when he entered room 1219 it was for the purpose of changing his clothes to keep an engagement and without knowledge that Miss Rappe was there. He will further declare that he found her in a state of exuberant nausea induced by the drinks she had taken. He is expected to say also that Miss Rappe fell from the bed on which she was lying in one of her paroxysms.

The state will call some rebuttal witnesses—probably occupying Monday morning's session for the purpose. This would lay the way open for arguments to begin to the jury Monday afternoon—providing there is no agreement to submit the case without argument, rather remote possibility.

AMERICA MAY TAKE LEAD IN FREEING PRISONERS OF WAR

Washington, Nov. 25.—America may take the lead among the nations associated with her in the world war in freeing those convicted of wartime offenses if the program of leniency being considered by President Harding is adopted, officials say.

Investigation of the steps taken in this direction by foreign nations made by representatives of this country abroad was said by officials to have disclosed that prison doors still are closed upon violators of the war laws of all the other governments.

The work of collecting data upon the war-law violators in this country requested by President Harding has been begun, justice department officials declared today. Preparation of the digest of the different cases, officials said, may take several weeks, as it will be necessary to communicate with all the federal and state prisons in the country to ascertain where the war-law violators are confined and to obtain histories of their cases.

BRIAND GIVES CHALLENGE ON CUTTING NAVY

Wants Powers to Reduce Navy in Proportion To France.

REBUKES CRUZON

Premier Issues Final Statement Before Sailing for Home

New York, Nov. 25.—Facing up and down his hotel room like a caged lion, Premier Briand of France, in his final statement to the American people, dictated to a correspondent of the L. N. S., challenged the powers of the world to reduce their navies in proportion to France's announced army reduction, sharply rebuked foreign minister Lord Curzon of Great Britain for his assault on France's policy to ward Germany and again told why France must maintain a large army.

After bidding other newspapermen goodbye, the French premier who sailed at noon today aboard the liner Paris, called in the L. N. S. correspondent and said:

"France, which has 60,000,000 subjects in her colonies, whose coasts are on three seas, which consequently needs a navy, has seen her fleet of capital ships reduced by the effects of the war from three squadrons to a single squadron. She is prepared on this ground to realize an accord with her friends and allies for the same proportional reduction.

"As regards disarmament, France will have gone as far along this road as any other country, without exception. In effect, on land, in spite of the dangers which she undergoes she has already spontaneously reduced her metropolitan army by a third. In spite of the law which keeps three classes with the colors, actually there are only two. Furthermore, the government has introduced a bill into parliament which reduces the period of service by half. As a consequence the number of effectives in the army is in the same proportion.

"It is much more than the other nations will do as regards navies, since the naval reductions envisaged do not exceed forty percent."

"Consequently," the French premier said, "the sum total of her forces of national defense—land, army and sea army—it can be said, that France will have made an effort at reduction superior to that of any other nation and the merit will be greater because she is in veritable danger. Our English friends ought to recognize the fact that the German fleet is at the bottom of the seas and consequently it is no longer a menace for England and for us. But the seven million men of the German armies are still there very much alive and available. It is a fact France must realize and consider."

Premier Briand said he did not wish to reply to Lord Curzon's speech because he had not seen the text.

"I do not quite see, however," he said, "what interest there can be for friends and allies to argue with one another in the very moment when they are trying at Washington to assure the peace of the world. It is primarily between them that peace ought to exist. I shall pin my faith on the words of Mr. Balfour, pronounced at the last public session of the conference when he solemnly recognized, as did all the other delegates, that the situation of France was exceptional and that she had need to take precautions for her safety."

He said he had viewed with satisfaction that it had been sufficient for him to "loyally explain the situation to the American people in order to be understood by the whole world, which permits me to leave for France with a tranquil spirit and a peaceful heart."

FESS WILL SPEAK

Congressman S. D. Fess will speak at the Yellow Springs, Methodist Church Sunday evening upon the topic "Problems and Possibilities of the Disarmament Conference."

The service will be at 7:30 o'clock and the public is invited.

GROCERYMAN TO VISIT HARDING

Lothair, Ky., Nov. 25.—Albert C. Rhodes, a restaurant keeper and grocery dealer of this village is preparing his affairs to leave for the national capital, where he will visit President Harding in the White House. Rhodes, a former employee of the president at Marion, gained the executive's friendship while working for him.

Since Mr. Harding entered the White House a number of letters have been exchanged and the last time one contained an invitation to come to Washington and sit down as "home folks" at the president's table.

WILBUR O'DON XENIA, DYING FROM GUN SHOT

Police Search for Frank Stokes, Xenia, as Gun Weilder

SCRAPE IN DAYTON

Shooting Result of Thanksgiving Crap Game Alleged.

Wilbur Odon, aged 24, colored, of 732 East Main street, Xenia, an ex-soldier is said to be dying at the Miami Valley Hospital, as the result of two bullet wounds in the abdomen said to have been inflicted by a companion during a quarrel over a Thanksgiving day crap game on East Second street, Dayton.

Frank Stokes, also colored, whose home is in the Hawkins apartments, on east Main street, is wanted by Dayton police as the suspected gun user. Xenia police, who are watching for Stokes, say that he has not returned to Xenia.

Odon and Stokes are fellow students in the government vocational training school of ex-soldiers at Wilberforce university. Odon and his wife went to Dayton Thursday morning to spend Thanksgiving day with friends.

According to reports received by Dayton police, Odon, Stokes, and several other Xenia colored men were having a crap game at the home of John Millon, Second and McGee streets. An argument arising out of the game is said to have caused Stokes to draw his revolver and shoot Odon twice. Odon was taken to the hospital by Wade Allen, 733 East Church street, who is also said to have been attending the game. The shooting occurred shortly before 5 o'clock. At the hospital, where an operation was performed in the hope of saving Odon's life, very little hope for his recovery was expressed.

Odon served overseas during the World War as a member of Co. A, 813 Pioneer Infantry, Stokes, the alleged gun user, came to Xenia from the south. He is married.

SUBMIT BASIS FOR NEGOTIATION OF IRISH QUESTION

New Proposals To Be Presented to Ulster Cabinet Tuesday.

London, Nov. 25.—Premier Lloyd George today handed to Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, the British cabinet's latest formal basis for negotiation of the Irish question, which was drawn up after the prime minister's recent conference with the Sinn Fein delegation.

The new proposals of the government will be placed before the Ulster cabinet by Craig next Tuesday which is likely to be the most critical day of the present phase of negotiations. The government's latest plan refuse Ulster's request for publication of all correspondence because it might entail immediate breakdown of Lloyd George's negotiations with the Sinn Fein.

Craig refused any statement following his conference with the prime minister, which lasted an hour.

An official announcement said there would be no further meetings to discuss the Irish situation until next Tuesday adding that there had been no break in the negotiations.

Rioting is Renewed.

Belfast, Nov. 25.—Military reinforcements were rushed to this city today as factional bitterness increased and renewal of the rioting which has terrorized inhabitants for the last week appeared imminent.

Police figures showed 26 persons had been killed in the disturbances.

PORTUGUESE REVOLUTION SEEN

Madrid, Nov. 24.—Dispatches from the Portuguese frontier today report that another revolution is brewing in Portugal and that the troops in Lisbon have been confined to their barracks in readiness for eventualities.

RETURNS TO GERMANY

Berlin, Nov. 25.—Hugo Stinnes, Germany's financial and industrial leader, returned today from his trip to London. No announcement was made regarding the results of his visit.

PESSIMISM OVERHANGS ARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Enthusiasm and Optimism That Followed America's Presentation of Naval Program Dispelled by Controversial Factors Arising

WILL NOT LIMIT EUROPEAN ARMIES

Powers Express Sympathy With China's Aims But Four General Principles Applying to That Country Still Being Interpreted Differently by Each.

Washington, Nov. 25.—For the first time the statesmen of the world began their labors here two weeks ago, a distinct atmosphere of pessimism hung over the Washington conference when it resumed its work today after the Thanksgiving recess.

The first flush of enthusiasm and general optimism that followed the startling presentation of the American naval program has been dispelled by the controversial factors that have arisen as the powers got down to the hard task of translating words into action.

The pessimistic outlook is shared by many observers in Washington and by not a few of the delegates themselves.

A member of the American delegation summed up the situation privately to a friend:

"It is easy to be generous with words but with action it is a horse of a different color."

Briefly, the results of the two weeks efforts are these:

Armament—The powers have agreed 'in principle' to the vast scrapping and future building program laid down by Secretary Hughes, but England and Japan are still quibbling over the details. Japan wants more gross tonnage than allowed by the American program; England wants more cruisers and the abolition of submarines.

It has been agreed that the conference will take no action with respect to limiting the standing armies of Europe.

Far Eastern Affairs.

All the powers have expressed sympathy with China's aims and have adopted four general principles to apply to China. They are so vaguely phrased that they are being interpreted differently by each of the powers.

A sub committee of nine has been appointed to examine China's tariff schedule and it is certain that she will be allowed to raise her duties from five per cent to 12 1-2 per cent.

So far as the naval program is concerned, there is little pessimism.

Ultimately it is believed that the terms as laid down by Secretary Hughes will be accepted in substantially the same form as they now are.

On this point the American attitude is adamant. The impression has been definitely conveyed to both Great Britain and Japan that the program proposed by America hits America harder than it does either Japan or Great Britain and that it is up to them to either accept it or reject it.

It is in the Far East part of the conference that the deepest pessimism prevails. The Chinese delegates who came to Washington with high hopes of seeing their country liberated from the dominance of foreign interests are frankly discouraged.

Already there is talk heard in Chinese quarters of the Washington conference being a "repetition of Paris." Also there is talk heard of "going home."

China has been getting a succession of shocks behind the closed doors of the Pan American building. The first came when their ten principles were turned down as the result of British and Japanese opposition. They were partly mollified by the ready acceptance of the vague but promising four principles written by Elihu Root as a substitute for their "bill of rights."

Now the Chinese hopes are again being dashed against the rocks by the interpretations that British and Japanese spokesmen are putting on the Root proposals.

Official spokesmen for the British have openly declared that they interpret the Root proposals as "solidifying and safeguarding the foreign interests on their spheres of influence and territorial rights instead of doing away with them as the Chinese had hoped.

"What is the use of our staying here?" asked one Chinese delegate, "if the wrongs of the past are to be confirmed instead of corrected?"

The Chinese are distinctly blue; they are hoping for the best and fearing for the worst.

The committee on far east affairs met again today in secret at the Pan American building. The question of tariffs has been disposed of for the moment by referring it to a subcommittee under the chairmanship of Senator Oscar Underwood. Today it was planned to delve straight into the controversial matter of extraterritorial rights, under which foreign governments for years have maintained their own courts, and police functions in China.

MAYORALTY RACE IN HOPELESS TIE

Wooster, Ohio, Nov. 25.—W. R. Hower and Harry Van Noate are beginning to fear that the 1st of January may roll round before it definitely is determined which of the two men was elected Mayor of Wooster town at the November election.

The returns immediately after the votes were cast showed Van Noate had won, 176 to 175. A few days later Hower filed suit in Probate Court in which he claimed that two school teachers, were denied the right to vote and that both intended to vote for him.

Probate Judge Charles C. Jones, in accordance with law named three freeholders to sit with him as a jury. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that had the three teachers been permitted to vote as they should have been the result would have been a tie, at 177 votes each. Judge Jones believes that so far as Probate Court is concerned the case has ended—without a decision as to which man is Mayor.

Japan alone among the greater nations is at disadvantage. Not only is she behind the others in development of aviation, but she is said to be lacking both in commercial industry capable of use for gas manufacture and in skilled personnel notwithstanding the fact that individual Japanese have attained a distinction as chemists.

LOCAL CAGE TEAM VICTORIOUS TWICE

Two victories in as many days, was the feat accomplished by the South Side Athletic basketball team in defeating the Winter's National Bank five of Dayton, here Wednesday night and trouncing Spring Valley at that place Thursday night.

The local cage team defeated the Dayton quintet at the Rink Wednesday night 55-14 in a game in which the locals excelled in all departments of the cage game and tossed basket almost at will.

The South Side five found closer opposition in the fracas at Spring Valley Thursday night, defeating the Spring Valley five 39-21 in a well played game. Xenia lined up with Hurley and P. Davis, guards, H. Davis, at center and Johnson and Skelly at the forwards. The substitutions were Foley for Hurley, Stoops for Foley, Regan for Skelly and Skelly and Skelly for Johnson.

Spring Valley lineup with Hartsock and H. Holland at the forwards, D. Holland at center and Knee and Malone at the guards.

As a preliminary to the Wednesday night game at the Rink the Bruson O'Boerites of this city defeated the Rialto cage five from Dayton 20-10.

A BLOOD BUILDER FOR TIRED WOMEN

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood—Sold in Liquid or Tablet Form

When a woman, overworks, either mentally or physically, there is a strain on the vitality. Getting up in the morning she feels low in spirits. Her eyes are dull, her complexion is sallow or pasty.

A few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken in regular doses is what will build up her blood.

The reason for this is known. It is simply that Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes blood rich and red. It has the things in it that make new blood and drive out the poisons in the system. New blood makes new vigor and gradually the depressed feelings vanish, the natural healthy glow comes back to the skin and there is pleasure in living.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is sold at drug stores in liquid or tablet form. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on each package. adv

HARDING CONFERS WITH SECY. HUGHES

Washington, Nov. 25.—President Harding and Secretary Hughes conferred for half an hour this morning on the course high the Hashington conference is taking.

Upon leaving the White House, Mr. Hughes said he would not attend today's cabinet meeting and he went directly from the executive offices to the Pan-American building to attend the secret meeting of the committee on far east affairs.

The secretary declined to comment on his conference with the president. It was indicated however, that officials are not disposed to regard reports of friction as serious.

EXTRA GUARDS ARE ADDED TO FORCE

Washington, Nov. 25.—Additional precautions are being taken to guard the statesmen attending the conference here from any harm.

Because of the intense political and racial situations abroad, the foreign visitors have been heavily guarded since their arrival in Washington.

Now the American delegates also are being accompanied by guards. Secretary of State Hughes was accompanied by a secret service operative this morning when he went to the Pan American building.

ONLY TWO CASES OF DIPHTHERIA IN CITY

There are only two cases of diphtheria under quarantine in Xenia now, according to Dr. R. H. Grube, health commissioner of Greene county.

Dr. Grube says that there have been only 40 diphtheria cases in the county and 28 in Xenia this fall, and no deaths, although an epidemic of serious proportions raged in Springfield and Clark county for many weeks. The malady has not reached epidemic form here, the cases dragging along with only a few homes under quarantine at a time.

Watchful preventive measures, and with strict quarantine and prompt use of anti-toxin have prevented the malady becoming serious here, Dr. Grube says. The health commissioner said today that virtually every case of diphtheria could be cured if anti-toxin could be used within the first twenty four hours.

R. D. WILLIAMSON IS IMPROVING

County Commissioner R. D. Williamson, who is a patient of Dr. R. H. Grube at Lakewood hospital, Cleveland is said to be in a favorable condition following a minor operation which took place several weeks ago. Surgeons expect to perform a major operation on Mr. Williamson later, for the purpose of correcting gall bladder trouble from which he has been suffering for some time.

INJURY RECEIVED IN BALL GAME IS CAUSE OF OPERATION

Kenneth Weiss, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weiss of Yellow Springs, is at the Springfield Hospital following an operation for necrosis of the bone, which he underwent Wednesday. He is very weak, but surgeons say his chances for recovery are good.

The young man who graduated last June from the Yellow Springs high school, was injured last winter while playing in a basket ball game. He received a blow in the right side of the chest, which gave him more or less trouble ever since. Six weeks ago his condition became serious and he took to his bed. A recent examination at the Springfield hospital decided surgeons that necrosis of the bone had been caused by the injury, and the operation took place. A section of affected rib was removed.

Young Weiss is six feet tall and weighed about 200 pounds before he became ill.

LEANDER SPAHR, FARMER, IS DEAD

Leander Spahr, prominent farmer, died at his home on the Lower Bell-brook pike, five miles from Xenia, at 9:30 Friday of pleural pneumonia, after an illness of three days duration. He was 69 years of age.

Mr. Spahr was born south of Xenia, on the New Burlington pike, January 23, 1852. His home was always in Greene county. He was unmarried, and his nearest surviving relative, is a sister, Mrs. L. A. Babb. Mrs. Babb's husband died ten week ago, Friday.

Mr. Spahr was a prominent member of the Richland M. E. church. He was at one time a trustee of Spring Valley township, and belonged to the Jr. O. U. A. M. council at Spring Valley.

A funeral service will be held at the home Monday at 9:30, and at 10:30 at the Richland church. Burial will be made in Woodland cemetery.

A LEAF FROM HISTORY SHOWS DISARMAMENT FORCED BY MONROE.

If the late war proved nothing else it indelibly restamped as eternal failure the European system of militarism, with its motto, "If you want peace prepare for war."

Against this put the century's success of the American system proclaimed by Monroe on April 28, 1818. After the war of 1812-14, followed by the Treaty of Ghent, British newspapers announced their Government's intention to increase their navy—the course clamored for by certain journalists today. Monroe deplored and deprecated such mischievous action. He proposed a new American system—disarmament.

Britain demurred, until Adams, our minister, deemed the case hopeless. Monroe, however, insisted and persisted so effectively that finally Richard Rush, a Philadelphian, representing this country, and Mr. Bagot for Great Britain, agreed not only to desist from putting any more war ships on the Great Lakes, but to dismantle any already there, and to convert any in course of building to other uses. By a further "tacit understanding" no additional forts or garrisons were in future to be placed on the 3000-mile borderline stretching westward to the Pacific.

A century's success has proved the wisdom of Monroe and his policy of disarmament. What reason is there to doubt that the same wise policy would be universally successful?

Europe's system has resulted in everwidening disaster; let the American system now hold way!

CALIFORNIA FRUIT CROP BIGGEST EVER.

Shipments of California citrus fruits totaled 60,147 carloads and returned $83,537,344 to growers in the year ended October 31, C. H. Powell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, reports. The crop was the largest in history. Of this total, $48,350 cars comprised oranges and grapefruit and 11,797 cars lemons.

The exchange, which handled 72.5 per cent of the crop, disposed of its yield at sales cost of 7.03 cents a box, or 1.47 per cent of the fruits' delivered value. Due to increased volume, this cost is lower than it was ten years ago. On the year's business of $66,080,000 the change lost through bad debts only $3,570.

Of 50,000 acres planted to lemons, 33,000 acres are in bearing. California produces enough lemons to supply normal requirements of the United States and Canada. The industry has its eyes on foreign markets and has sent investigators to the chief countries.

One of the largest undeveloped outlets for oranges and lemons lies in the commercializing of lemonade and orange juice, in the opinion of the exchange. Research workers are preparing and perfecting such beverages.

POVERTY AND WEALTH.

It's an illuminating revelation of conditions in China that the Peking government acknowledges its inability to pay the interest due on a moderate-sized American loan. Where the United States deals carelessly in billions of dollars, China with four or five times as many people, and with vast areas and natural resources, cannot raise millions.

In the light of this fact, the "open door" in China looks less like a portal to commercial wealth than America and Europe usually consider it. Trade is a question not of population, but of economics—of producing and consuming power. The Chinese produce little per capita compared with us, and consume it all themselves, and so have not only little margin for export, but little money for foreign purchases. Canada's trade has always been, and is now, incomparably more valuable to the United States than China's. Even Mexico's trade is worth more.

Nevertheless that door must be kept open and China must be saved from ruthless partition, first, as a moral duty and second for future advantage. Some day the Chinese may really awaken and develop their natural resources or have those resources developed for them, and increase their producing and consuming power, and then their trade will be vast and profitable.

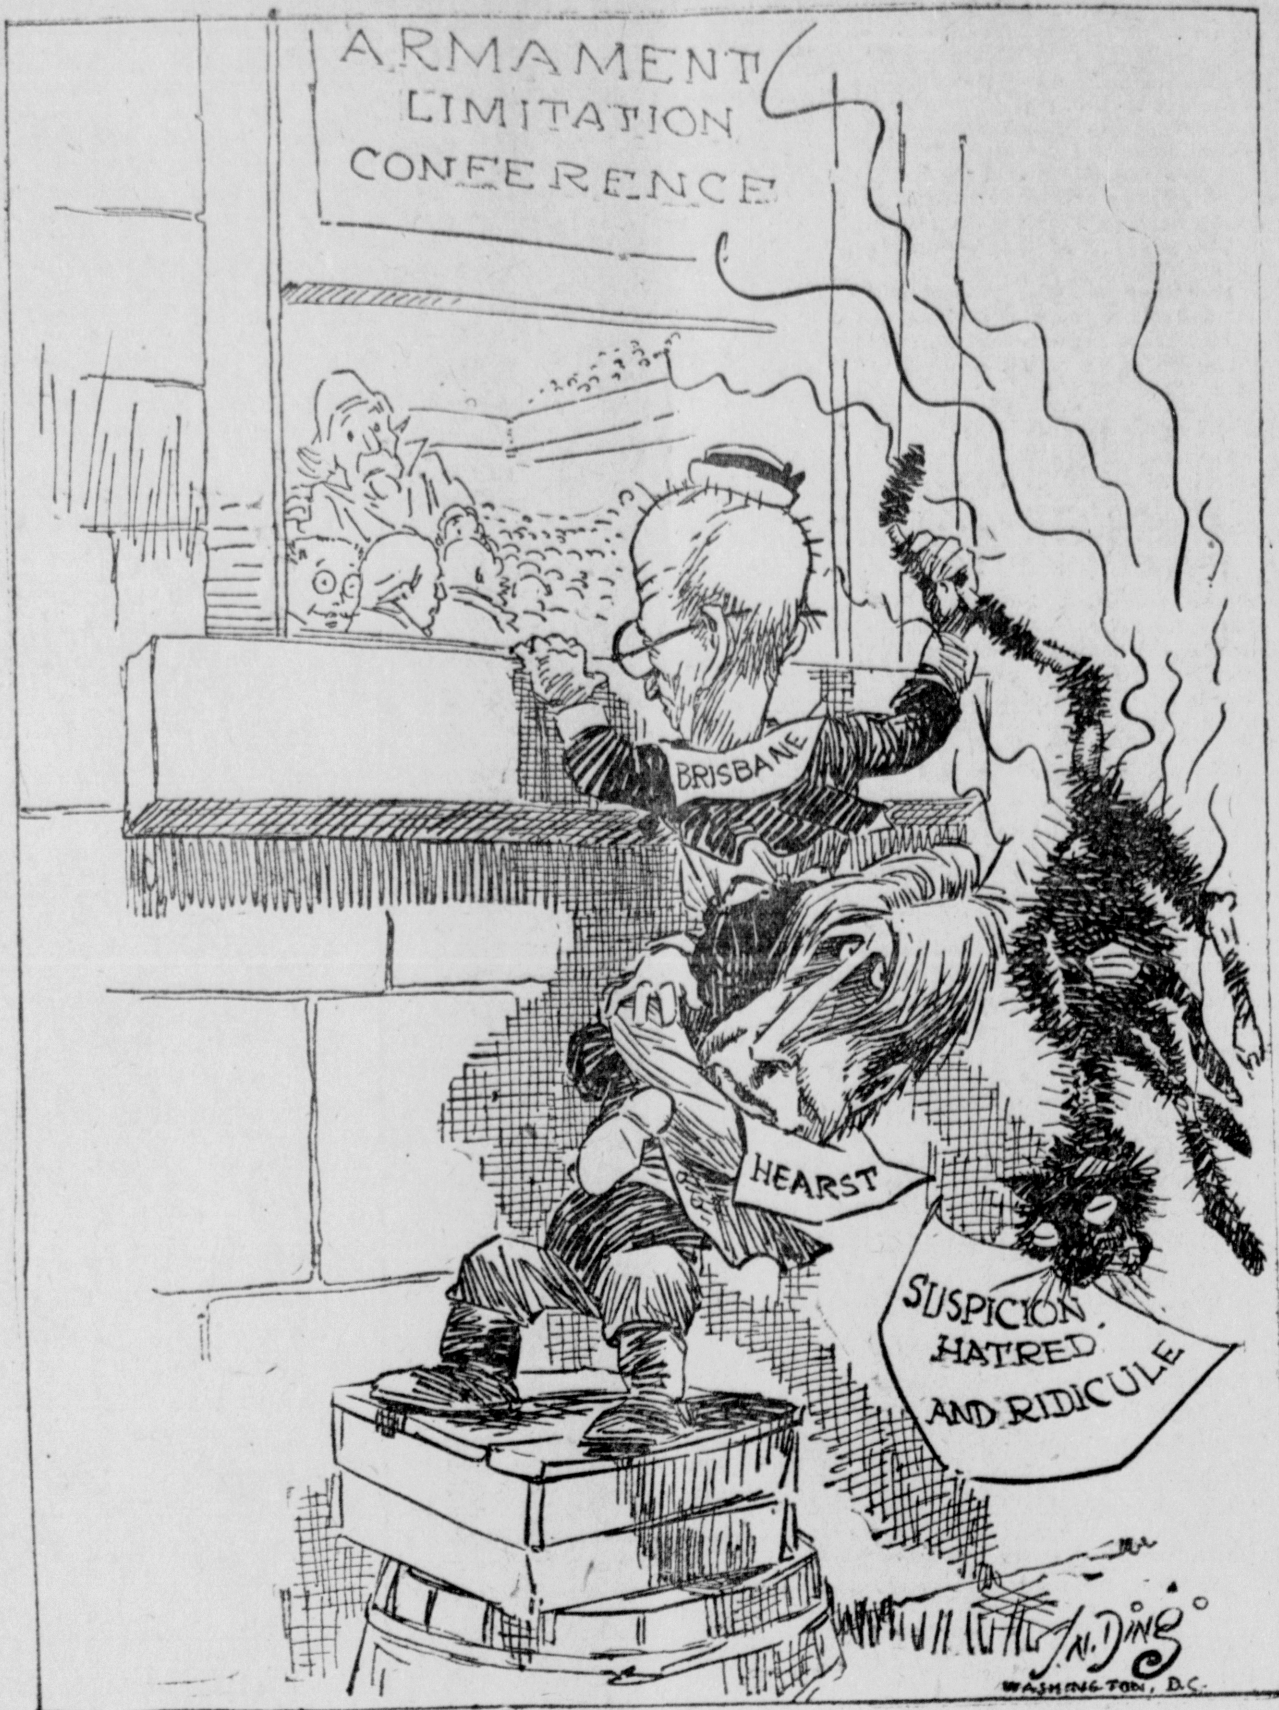

THE FOOLISH GIRLS.

A magistrate in the Pittsburgh morals court has asked the city officials to appoint 100 women police officers to aid in cleaning up the restaurants, cabarets, and other night haunts of the town.

The magistrate would not have these women police authorized to make arrests, but would have them visit all places frequented by young women, observe what was going on, when necessary warn the girls of the common dangers of night life and try to induce them to return to their homes. When the girls proved refractory the officer would visit the home and warn the parents, and both the girl and her mother would be instructed to report in morals court next day.

If the plan is carried out, the officers will be chosen from experienced social workers, and there is little doubt that their influence would be valuable. The young woman would be saved the terror and shame of arrest and her parents would be summoned to bear their full share of responsibility. Most girls who end in wickedness start in folly. This looks like a good way to convince the foolish ones of their folly before it is too late.

THE ONLY BAD ODOR AROUND THE CONFERENCE HAS COME FROM OUTSIDE

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Mr. Ray John who is employed in Cincinnati, spent yesterday in this city, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. John. Mr. Austin Patterson spent Thanksgiving at home and departed this morning for Woodburg Farm, Spring Station, Kentucky, to attend a reunion of Princeton alumni. About forty friends dropped in on Miss Margaret Graham, the well known dressmaker at her home on Dayton avenue last evening to give her a surprise.

Mr. Nelson Sparks, who is engaged in the lumber business in Peebles, Ohio, arrived in Xenia this morning and will spend several days here the guest of relatives.

Mr. R. S. Kingsbury, who has been absent for the past week on a business trip to New York and Philadelphia, returned home today.

Mary and Helen Dodds and their brother John, are spending the Thanksgiving vacation visiting in Jamestown.

In the dining room, the decorations were carried out in true Thanksgiving style, with "the frost on the pumpkin and the fodder in the shock." A color scheme of pink and white added to the charming arrangement, dainty pink baskets of candies being the favors.

During the afternoon, dancing and games were enjoyed, prizes being won by the small Misses Catherine Osborn, and Bessie Hoffer.

DINNER PARTY GIVEN THURSDAY

Miss Anna Kester was hostess at dinner at her home on Cincinnati Avenue, Thursday evening, covers being laid for eight guests.

The affair was given in honor of Mr. Melvin Seehafer, of Marshfield, Wisconsin, the house guest of Miss Ethel Highley. The following were seated: Mr. Seehafer, and Miss Highley, Mr. Raymond Shepherd, Miss Mildred Highley, Mr. Carl Highley, Miss Eugenia Considine, Mr. Donald Weaver and Miss Kester.

500 PARTY ENJOYED BY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mackrodt, of Cincinnati avenue, had as their Thanksgiving guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Lytle, and son Robert, of Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Scheers, of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lattimer and son Dawson, and Mrs. Ruby Stevenson, of West Second Street.

Five hundred was enjoyed by the guests, and a light luncheon served.

Willis Bowen has returned to his home in Toledo, Ohio, after a visit with friends and relatives in this city.

ENTERTAIN AT FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Van Cleaf, of South Detroit Street, entertained at a prettily appointed Thanksgiving dinner Thursday, covers being laid for twelve guests.

A handsome silver vase of yellow chrysanthemums, centered the table, yellow candles in silver holders being placed at each cover. The guests from out-of-town were, Mr. Stephen Phillips, of Piqua, Mr. Charles Phillips, of Cleveland, Miss Helen Phillips, and Mr. Gill Gillaster, of Columbus.

CHARMING PARTY GIVEN FOR DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Sears entertained fifteen little girls, at their home at 224 Fayette Street, Thanksgiving afternoon, the affair being given in honor of the eleventh birthday anniversary of their daughter Marguerite.

ON FOOT.

Pedestrians are often sinners, against the laws; they're much to blame, when choo-choo wagons, made by tinnies, collide with them and knock them lame. The motorists get roasts a-plenty, and they are fined and placed in hock when they've run down some eight or twenty cheap sports who don't know how to walk; who dodge around among the buses, and laugh all traffic rules to scorn, until the moral driver curses and wonders why they e'er were born. Just now we are exhorting drivers to end the present reign of fear so there may be a few survivors when next the census men appear. And I exhort the walking voters to bear in mind the rules of Hoyle, and not run down defenseless motors, and make the blood of chauffeurs boil. When someone's hurt the crowds assemble, attracted by the sick'ning thud, and straightway make the welkin tremble, demanding some poor driver's blood. But it may be the hapless driver is innocent of breaking laws; yet he is pinched and fined a stiver—perhaps a stretch in jail he draws. And it may be the fellow stricken has broken all the rules in sight, has jay-walked till his course would sicken all true defenders of the right. And so, while we are loudly preaching to those who drive along the street, methinks we shouldn't fail in teaching the walkers how to wield their feet.

ROMANCE OF YOUTH REVIVED AS COUPLE REUNITE AFTER YEARS OF SEPARATION

After a separation of nearly forty years Mr. and Mrs. Ed. R. Wright have been reunited, and are visiting relatives in Xenia before going to Ukiah, Cal., where Mr. Wright is a wealthy owner of red wood timber land.

In the early eighties Mr. and Mrs. Wright were living in Hillsboro, where Mr. Wright followed his occupation of carriage painter. He is a brother of P. A. Wright of this city. The wanderlust seized him, and he wanted to go west, but Mrs. Wright did not share his ambition to take up life in California. She remained at home while he travelled to the coast. In the years that he spent in California, Mr. Wright was engaged in various occupations, and was tax collector for many years in one county. He finally engaged in the real estate and insurance business, and began buying red wood timber land.

Ukiah, where he is now making his home is 100 miles north of San Francisco, where the red wood country begins.

In all the years that they have been separated, Mr. and Mrs. Wright remained faithful to each other, but until recently they had only occasional communication and husband and wife had not seen each other until they were reunited here about a week ago.

Recently Mr. Wright wrote to his wife, who has been employed for a number of years in the alteration department of a Dayton store, asking her for a reconciliation and telling her that he wanted to take her to the pretty bungalow home that is his among the California red woods. She agreed to go with him and he came to Ohio for the purpose of taking back with him to the coast the wife of his youth.

A family dinner in honor of the reunited husband and wife was held Thanksgiving day at the home of Mr. Wright's nephew, Lester Barnes on east Second street. Mr. and Mrs. Wright expect to visit here for a week or so before going to California.

Styles BY LENORE

It is made of Canton crepe this very good-looking dress, with the gracefully draped tunic that almost but not quite meets in the back, where the softly looped girdle hangs. In color it is a deep rich shade of terra cotta, with dull blue grosgrain ribbon trimming the corsage, four-tion skirt and sleeves. The effect is Egyptian. Characteristic embroidery may be substituted if you wish to emphasize the oriental idea. Or the entire character of the frock may be altered by developing it in a dark or neutral color, like brown, blue or gray, omitting the ribbon trim altogether and embroidering only the front of the bodice and the cuffs in noisy harmonizing colors. At the neck, pointed net gives a flattering finish.

WOMAN ROUTS ROBBER WITH KICK

Columbus, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Floyd Roach had something to be thankful for yesterday. It was that a bandit who attacked her with a revolver and a demand that she throw up her hands was a coward at heart. Mrs. Roach kicked the bandit on the leg. He screamed and ran.

MILK AND CREAM PRODUCERS TO MEET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The sixth meeting of the Milk and Cream Producers of the county, was held Wednesday night at Bellbrook. The meeting of the same nature as the previous ones, was well attended, and it is thought that the farmers who attend are in favor of marketing their milk and cream cooperatively.

Later meetings of the producers are scheduled for December 12, 13 and 14 when farmers interested in the plan will convene from the following townships: Cedarville, Ross, Silvercreek, Jefferson, Caesar Creek and New Jasper. Two meetings will be held each day, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. The previous meetings were held at Fairfield, Yellow Springs, Xenia, Spring Valley and Alpha.

SPEAKER FROM OHIO STATE WILL SPEAK

R. F. Taber, farm department manager of the Ohio State University, will speak at the meeting of twenty farmers of the vicinity of Jamestown and Cedarville, composing the "Cost Account Ring," to be held at the home of William Anderson on the Jamestown pike, December 2.

J. MASON PRUGH TO ADDRESS MEETING

J. Mason Prugh, of Montgomery County, district director of the farm bureau, will address a meeting of the members of the executive committees of four counties, and their wives, to be held in this city, December 2. The counties to be represented at the session will be Montgomery, Clinton, Fayette, and Greene, and several matters of general interest, concerning the promotion of farm bureau activities will be discussed. A home demonstration agent, from Montgomery County will address the women at the meeting upon topics of farm housekeeping.

DRESS MAKING WILL BE TAUGHT IN XENIA

Miss Edna Callan, specialist of household arts of Ohio State University, will give instructions in cutting, fitting and making patterns for dress making, to township leaders, at a meeting to be held in the Court House, next Wednesday.

The meeting and instructions will be a continuation of the work begun November 2. The instructions are being given the leaders of each township in order that they may form a township organization to train the women of the community in the art of dressmaking.

FOOTBALL SINGING SWAN SONG AS MIAMI WINS CONFERENCE

Football practically sang its swan song in this state. Thanksgiving Day, with many colleges and schools completing their season's schedule.

Miami University won the Ohio Conference Championship by defeating the University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati in the annual grid tilt of these two elevens, 15-7 thereby maintaining a clean slate throughout.

Western Reserve surprised itself by holding Case to an 0-0 score in the annual city clash at Cleveland, which did not affect the Conference standings of these teams. Ohio Northern nosed Wittenberg out for sixth place in the Conference standings by a 7-0 victory at Springfield.

How To Keep Your Blood Pure and Wholesome

It Is the Person With Rich, Red, Normal Blood—The Person of Health and Energy—That Meets With Business and Social Success.

A Lowered Vitality Is Usually Due to Waste Products in the Blood.

When your blood is impoverished and loaded with waste products, you don't get the full strength out of your food, and as a consequence, you become weak, nervous, and easily upset. Waste products get into the blood mainly through the intestines, but there are other sources—for instance, the glands. Some glands secrete digestive juices, while others excrete waste products. If they fail to properly function, waste products accumulate.

As a result, nature strives to cast off the poisons. It may be through the skin in the form of some skin disorder, but it is not infrequent for it to settle in the muscles and joints and cause rheumatism.

For over 50 years, thousands and thousands of men and women have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood for the first time the Lutherans have been defeated on their home lot in four years.

Other Ohio College games include Wooster's defeat of Mount Union 6-0 and Ohio University's scoreless tie with Marietta. At Dayton, Steele won its annual tilt with Stivers by a 26-6 score and the West Side Merchants defeated the Mascottes for the right to meet the Eagles for city championship, 6-0.

Postoria high, which offered the Central high eleven $750 to play there Thursday, defeated Lane Technical high of Chicago 20-0. In independent circles the American Legion team of this city was forced to disappoint a large crowd when North Dayton Merchants failed to appear for their game here Thursday afternoon. The Canton Bull Dogs, playing at Akron, eliminated the Akron Indians from further contention for the independent league title by defeating them 14-0. Lane plunges for long gains scored the victory, F. J. Slackford, formerly of this city, going over for the second touchdown after a series of line plunges that carried the oval 27 yards.

The Buffalo All-Americans which team the Bull Dogs tied, broke the winning streak of the Chicago Staleys by a 7-6 score, when a goal kick after the Staleys' touchdown failed. Buffalo scored on a long forward pass.

TODAY'S TALKS

THE MODELS WE THINK

The thinker is a builder—always. Before anything can be really shaped, it must be dreamed and imagined. The creative mind thinks in models.

There is a story told of how a nobleman came to the painter Guido to inquire who were the models for beautiful faces of women he painted, so he might look upon them.

But Guido had no beautiful models. He merely placed his coarse featured organ grinder before his paints and brushes and told him to assume the attitude he wished—and then, from his own imagination, brought forth on the canvasses his matchless madonnas!

"My dear Count," said the painter, "the beautiful and pure idea must be in the mind and then it is no matter what the model is."

As a man thinketh, so is he" is tremendous in its truth and reality.

Prospective and possible giants in action and intellect walk our streets every day—without realizing it.

To arouse your mind is to magnify life at once for you.

To keep picturing in your mind the things you so much desire, making models of your ideas in completed tasks—that is to grow and achieve.

The models we think are what people know us by eventually—even though we are long deeply misunderstood before we are able to demonstrate the practical working out of our imaginings.

I am very sure that Fulton saw his boat steam quietly up the Hudson long before he had set its breast upon the water.

Keep in the back of your head—and in the pocket of your soul—the thing you want to be, and some day people will see at your very feet what you saw afar off in darkness and mystery.

CEDARVILLE TEAM LOSES TO DEFIANCE

Cedarville College football team lost its final game of the season at Defiance Thanksgiving afternoon by the score of 58-2.

Coach Blackburn's lads were completely outplayed by the up-state aggregation, which team held Kenyon to a 7-7 tie, and they were lucky to obtain the safety that gave them two points and saved them from a shut-out.

The Cedarville team deserved credit however for meeting all-comers and striving gamely to put that school back on the football map, with promise of a better team next season.

"Lissen, Peggy—every mudder gives her kiddies KELLOGG'S because you can eat great big bowls an' they taste good—er an' they're all crispy an' dandy!"

You never tasted Corn Flakes so joyously flavored, so crispy-crunchy as Kellogg's

That's why big and little folks who know the difference insist upon KELLOGG'S! The thing to do is to make comparison—Kellogg's against any other kind of corn flakes you ever ate! If it's quality, or all-the-time crispness or delicious or appetizing flavor you want—well, just wait till you eat Kellogg's! And, what a delight to know they're never leathery!

You'll get so cheerful about Kellogg's that the day's best hours will be when it's time to sit down with the family in front of generous bowls all filled most to bursting with those big, sunny-brown Corn Flakes! Never was a better time than tomorrow morning to prove that KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes are about the "gladdest of all good things to eat."

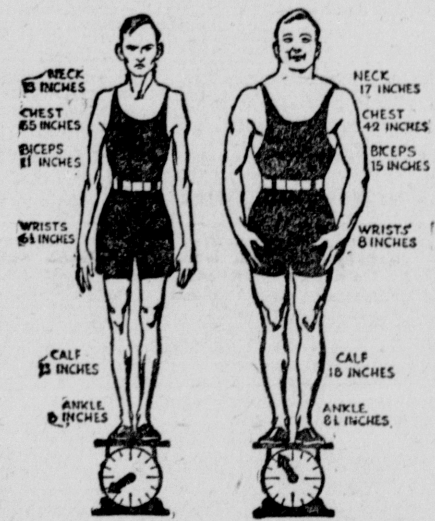

Insist upon KELLOGG'S—the kind in the RED and GREEN package—if you want to know how wonderfully good corn flakes can be!

WEATHER HELPS TO SPOIL THE HOLIDAY

A gray, cold rainy day seemed to put an unusual quietude upon the Thanksgiving festivities in Xenia. A round of good things to eat, and several informal social affairs were held on the holiday program.

The main feature of the day's sport, the American Legion and North Dayton Merchants game that was scheduled to be staged at Gatch field at 2:30 o'clock, failed to materialize owing to the failure of the Dayton lads to appear.

In the evening, social affairs held the attention of the public, two dances being given, one at the Elk's Club and one at the Knights of Pythias Hall. Good crowds and music featured both affairs.

The college crowd home for the first of the holidays swelled the usual list of visitors in the city.

Philadelphia Woman Says She Is Now Perfectly Well—Gives Tanlac Full Credit.

"I am only too glad to give my testimonial to Tanlac, for it has benefited me so wonderfully that I want others to know what a grand medicine it is," said Miss Irene Noon, popular young lady residing at 6099 Yocum St., Philadelphia, Penn.

"When I began taking Tanlac I was in a dreadfully run-down condition. I was pale and weak, had scarcely any energy at all, and simply felt tired and sluggish all the time. I had frequent headaches and such terrible dizzy spells that everything would turn black before my eyes and at times I would almost fall over in a faint. I was so nervous and restless I couldn't sleep well at night, and I simply felt miserable all the time.

"A friend of mine told me what splendid results she had gotten from Tanlac, so I decided to see what it would do for me. I am certainly glad I did, too, for it has only taken two bottles to make me perfectly well again. I am free from the headaches and that sluggish, dizzy feeling and have gained eight pounds in weight. My sleep is sound and refreshing, and I feel just splendid all the time. I think Tanlac is simply the grandest medicine made."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill, and all leading druggists everywhere.

DAYTON TEAM FAILS TO APPEAR FOR GAME

With one of the largest crowds of the season on hand for their usual Thanksgiving Day gridiron menu, the American Legion football team was forced to disappoint its followers at Gatch field, Thursday, when the North Dayton Merchants failed to put in an appearance.

The Dayton team was scheduled here through Ben Peirs, former Xenian, and head of the Dayton recreational department, after the Merchants were unable to play. It was to be a return game for the visitors who were defeated here 7-0 by the Legion in its opening game.

In spite of the rainy weather, the Legion announced that the game would be played as Gatch field drains easily and was in good shape for the combat considering the heavy rainfall. The Dayton team, however, failed to show up, and the contest had to be called off.

DR. JACKSON DIES AT WILBERFORCE

Dr. Thomas Jackson, 77, of Wilberforce, prominent educator, died at his home at Wilberforce, Thursday night at 9 o'clock following an attack of grip, and complication of diseases.

Dr. Jackson was the last member of the first graduating class of three of Wilberforce University. At the time of his death he was instructor in the Paine Seminary of the church.

He was a member of the Board of Trustees for the past 40 years.

Dr. Jackson was for a number of years, president of the Shorter College, at Little Rock, Ark., before coming to Wilberforce about ten years ago.

His wife preceded him in death last spring. He is survived by one daughter, Miss Geraldine, an instructor at the university.

Cedarville College Notes

Last Friday evening a surprise party was given in honor of Miss Lucile Johnson at her home on Xenia Avenue. A company of about fifty young people gathered to celebrate her birthday. Mr. Edwin Bradute presented to her, on behalf of the guests, a beautiful ivory clock. The evening was spent in games and music. Delicious refreshments were served after which the guests departed at a late hour.

The football team will journey to Defiance on Thanksgiving Day, and will wind up its season with this game. Coach Blackburn is giving his squad a stiff workout and expects to make a good showing against the Defiance eleven.

College will be dismissed from Wednesday noon until Tuesday morning for the Thanksgiving vacation. Many are looking forward to the vacation, when they may return home.

Miss Lillian Hopper and Miss Helen Bawker, who were guests for the past week of Miss Eloise Davis and Miss Marjorie Wright have returned to their homes in Cleveland.

Miss Margaret McCarty has returned to college, after being absent for over a week, due to illness.

Dr. McChesney went to Columbus last Wednesday on business for the college.

At a "Cornucopia Meeting" held last Thursday, the girls of the Y. W. C. A. decided to fill several Thanksgiving hampers, that they might spread the true Thanksgiving spirit.

Miss Josephine Randall was the splendid leader for the inspiring and beneficial meeting.

The Orange and Blue Literary Society will conduct the Thanksgiving program, to be presented Wednesday morning in the chapel.

Mr. Carl Elder was pleasantly surprised by a number of friends who gathered to celebrate his birthday, Monday evening, at the home of Miss Edith Ramsey.

The girls must keep training rules too! Such is the verdict rendered to those who expect to play basketball this year.

OHIO HAS LARGE DELEGATION

Among the 125 farmers from Ohio in attendance at the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation at Atlanta starting Nov. 23, is W. B. Bryson, of Xenia.

Ohio had the biggest delegation of any state. A special train was made up at Cincinnati and a stop was made on the way to visit Look-out Mountain at Chattanooga. Thousands of buckeyes were distributed to interested delegates from other states and to the citizens of Atlanta.

Efficient Housekeeping

Mrs. S. To Salt Peanuts or Almonds—Use only raw peanuts. To blanch either the peanuts or almonds, cover them with cold water, bring to a boil, let stand for a few minutes, drain and husk. Do not blanch more than 1-2 pound at a time. Now let the husked nuts dry for several hours on paper toweling. To salt them, heat olive oil or any pure vegetable cooking fats to the point where it will brown a cube of bread as you count slowly up to 40. Cover the bottom of a frying basket with the husked nuts, indeed nuts with their skins on may be salted in this way, if desired, and immerse them in the hot fat, removing them before they are quite brown enough, their own heat, when draining will finish the browning of the nut. Spread them on paper toweling again (crumpled brown paper will do, and dredge lightly with table salt. When dry they are ready to eat.

Cinnamon Buns: Scald 1 pint of milk in the top of a double boiler, add 1 scant teaspoon of salt, 1 tablespoon of sugar, 1 tablespoon of lard and 1 tablespoon of butter. When these are dissolved remove the milk from the fire and let it cool until blood-warm; then add 2 well beaten eggs, 1-2 cake of compressed yeast dissolved in 1 cup of tepid water and enough flour to form a stiff batter. Beat this batter well, stirring into it 1 cup of mixed seeded raisins and currants, and adding a little more flour—enough to form a dough. Cover and let rise over night. In the morning knead well, form into buns, place these buns side by side in an oiled pan and let rise again till double in size, then spread the tops of the buns lightly with a paste made to taste by blending ground cinnamon, melted butter granulated sugar and a little milk. Bake in moderate oven for 35 minutes. The heat dissolves the sugar and gives a glaze to the tops of the buns.

Stuffed Green Pepper Pickles: The term "mangoes" is commonly used to describe all sorts of stuffed pickled vegetables such as cucumbers, large green tomatoes, green peppers and small green peppers and small green watermelons or green cantaloupes. If cucumbers are used they should be short and stubby. Tomatoes should be just turning ripe and should not be peeled. Peppers should have the stem ends removed. Any of these vegetables, used for stuffed pickles will of course have their interiors scooped out, forming cups. The vegetable should then be put to soak over night in a brine made of 1 cup of salt and 2 quarts of water. In the meantime prepare the stuffing, to use in the morning, as follows:

Stuffing for a Pickled Vegetable: (This recipe will stuff two dozen green peppers, medium-size. Mix together 4 quarts of finely-chopped raw cabbage, 2 quarts of finely-chopped celery 3 cups chopped onions, 1 tablespoon each of ground cinnamon, allspice, mustard seed and pepper, and let this mixture stand overnight also. In the morning drain the pepper from their brine, stuff them with this mixture, replace the caps that were cut off when you scooped out the interiors, fasten these tops with twine or toothpicks, cover with cold vinegar and let stand in this way over night. The next day simmer them for 1-2 hour in the vinegar then remove, put them in a stone crock, and cover with cold, fresh vinegar. This process is for stuffed peppers or tomatoes.

THE NEW GENERATION

By Jane Phelps

JOAN TELLS OF HER NOVEL DREAMS

CHAPTER 104.

"I'd like to be a regular vagabond woman Mumsie," Joan said as she pushed her work aside. "I'd like to find the pot of gold at the rainbow's end, and the treasure of Captain Kidd, and the footprints Robinson Crusoe made in the sand and every other impossible thing that puts the lure of adventure into one's soul."

Margaret awaited a moment before she answered. When Joan got a notion usually led to something. Was this to be a new experience? Was Joan longing to go adventuring? If so Margaret could not let her go alone—and Craig!

"Rather an impossible idea, Joan isn't it?" she finally said with a smile. "Robinson Crusoe's footprints in the sand must be pretty well obliterated by this time, probably washed away by the sea; and as for the pot of gold at the rainbow's foot haven't there been many who have chased it when it was lying right near if they only knew how to reach for it—that pot of gold is happiness dear."

"You don't catch the idea, Mumsie! I'd like to take a tramp steamer and just go with the tide not caring where I landed or how long I remained. Like Frederick O'Brien I would love to sail the South Sea and like him go where my fancy led."

"But he is a man, dear."

"A self-evident fact, Mumsie."

"What I meant, Joan was that a man can do things a girl can't do." "I know—and, Mumsie, it may sound sacrilegious and you know I don't mean it so, but that's one of the things I blame God for. He shouldn't have made us with such a handicap. The odds are too great."

"Oh, Joan!"

"There, I have shocked you. Sorry, Mumsie! But to get back to our mutt-tons. I should love to go adventuring my own way. I wouldn't give a rap to go with a crowd like Cook's tourists. They run about like a flock of sheep, all have to do the same thing and do it just the same. No individuality, no personal preference. It is the thing to see or the thing to do, so they all see it and all do it, exactly as the guide intends they shall. I wouldn't give a postage stamp to go that way."

"Perhaps you will travel some day Joan."

"If I hadn't made up my mind not to take a penny of Dad's money for ever and ever so long I'd ship on the first tramp steamer that would take me, 'A life on the ocean wave, a home on the bounding deep' would look mighty good to me for a year."

"You'd get tired of it Joan."

"How do you know? How does anyone know what tires unless they try and see? Experience is the only teacher in the world worth a whoop!"

"If you feel so keenly about it give up this foolish notion of earning your own living and we will go abroad."

Margaret said, heaving a sigh as she finished. She had thought of Craig.

"I don't want to go abroad! I know what you mean. Go in style and comfort on one of the big liners with letters to society folk, and all that nonsense! Not on your life, Mumsie! Not for Joan! When I go I'll either go alone or you'll go my way. And my way isn't the way of school teachers and missionaries, nor of society folks either. I want to go to the Orient, and I want to live as the Orientals do—China, Japan, Egypt, India, and Africa, all beckon me. Sometimes it seems to me that I hear every country of the earth calling me in a different tongue, and here I sit in Greenwich Village purring like a cat, and let all these wonderful calls go unheeded. I wonder sometimes why I don't run away!"

Margaret was speechless from surprise. Never has she heard Joan talk like this, never seen her so excited over any subject. Her eyes fairly blazed as she talked, her cheeks took on a high color, she gestured excitedly.

"You wouldn't do that Joan," Margaret finally said. "No matter how you want to go or where, dear, I will go with you. Never say you feel like running away again."

"All right, Mumsie! Now that I have worried you almost into a headache, will you be nice and make a cup of tea while I finish this article? I promised the editor he should have it tonight."
